Only One Deer Allowed To Dual License Owners

Rules For Hunting On Indian Area Released By New Ute Game Board

The newly appointed Ute Fish and Game Board yesterday announced that the possession of a Ute Indian hunting license and a Utah State hunting license does not entitle the holder to kill two deer as it has been misinterpreted by a number of people.

An applicant for the Ute hunting license must possess a Utah state license. Any person hunting on the Uintah and Ouray reservation, except restored ceded lands checkerboarded among non-Indian lands and lying in the vicinity of Duchesne City and the Strawberry river drainage, must have both the Ute and State licenses in his possession. The Avintiquin hunting area is not being included as part of the Ute Fish and Game program at present. All of the restricted areas have been posted and Ute game wardens are patroling the area.

The maximum penalty for unlawfully hunting in Indian country, as fixed by Federal statute is a fine of $500.00 or six months in confinement, and the confiscation of all equipment.

Charles E. Reed, Sr., retired civil service employee, was sworn in Tuesday, Oct. 23, to a three year term on the Ute Fish and Game Board. Alfred Pawwinnee, graduate of Sherman Institute, Riverside, Calif., a marine veteran of World War II, and a successful cattleman was appointed to a two-year term, while Preston Allen, also a graduate of Sherman Institute, Army veteran of World War II, and a farmer and livestock man, was sworn into office for a one year term. Albert Harris, land and lease clerk at the Uintah and Ouray Agency, was sworn in as clerk of the Fish and Game Board. The four Board members will be charged with the responsibility of executing the Ute Fish and Game program recently initiated by the Ute Tribe.

Ute license fees for big game hunting and game bird hunting is $3.00; game bird hunting only is $1.50; fish, $2.00; hunting and fishing, $4.00; game bird and fishing for all non-enrolled persons from 12 years of age to 16 years of age, $1.00. Indian Service employees of the Uintah and Ouray Agency and non enrolled persons married into the Ute Tribe will be charged only one-half of the above fees. Applicants for these special rate licenses must purchase them at the Uintah and Ouray Agency at Fort Duchesne.

Ute hunting licenses may be purchased at the Huish Drug and the IGA store in Roosevelt, Dalgleish's store, Myton; White's Mercantile, Tabiona; Fabrizio's store, Hanna; Austin Wardle, Ouray; Wing's, Ft. Duchesne; the Whiterocks Trading Post, Whiterocks, Dastrup's at Mt. Emmons, and at Lapoint and Altonah.

Twelve game wardens have been appointed to enforce the Ute hunting and fishing ordinance. Those sworn in Tuesday, October 23, 1950, as wardens are Andrew Cuch, James N. Cuch, Alvin R. Denver, Bud Reed, Edmond Van, Velman Johnson, Julius Murray, Bishop Arrowchis, LaMarr LaRose Glen Mac Murdock, Tommy LaRose and Reed Tavepont.
